

Christ lives today

“After his suffering, he shows himself to these men and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God” (Ac 1:3)

Read Acts 1:1-8

There is not a book in the history of man that has a more timeless attraction than the Holy Scriptures. Of all the stories in the Bible, the books about the life and ministry of Jesus are the most popular. The stand out a momentous to the compassion and love of God, the Father of our Lord Jesus.

All that we read about the Living Christ grips us with an inexplicable intensity and excitement. Of everything that Jesus did on earth, his resurrection takes pride of place, because therein lies the great principle of hope that Christians hold onto and on which the Christian faith is founded: the assurance that Christ, through his triumph over death, has given us the promise of eternal life.

If our Lord and Master had died without being resurrected, we would not have been able to witness the many examples of his love that we see wound us. If Jesus had not been the living Christ, we would not have witnessed our prayers being answered. If he did not still live, the power of the evil one would have destroyed the world a long time ago.

Look at the world around you, and know that despite everything you see, Jesus Christ and the resurrection and life endure forever! Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!
