

Live according to his decrees

“Whatever happens, conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ” (Php 1:27)
Read Philippians 1:27-30

Different people hold different views on how to lead their lives during their stay on earth. Some are careful conservative; others are careless. Some people try to provide for every eventuality. Others believe in the Epicurean dictum:” Eat, drink and be merry.” There are many people who lead an honest life while others are shamelessly dishonest.

Jesus came to this world to give “life” in abundance to mankind (Jn. 10:10). He wanted to show us how to live our lives. His life is therefore a perfect example to us of everything that is good and noble. It is the kind of life he wants us to live, every day.

Right now you might find yourself in a position where you are expected to act rashly, or to abandon your principles. Perhaps you have to consider acting in a particular manner, arrive at a decision, or take a wrong course that could be dangerous, although it might seem profitable.

In whatever situation you might be finding yourself right now, turn to the Holy Spirit for guidance. He is always prepared to help you see the circumstances in which you find yourself, through the eyes of Jesus. When you look for guidance from the Holy Spirit, you will soon discover what Jesus would have done in your situation. Then, set aside all personal thoughts and desires, and follow the guidance of Christ. Only then will you live a satisfying life.
